

BYRNES TO BE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER JUNE 2

Outstanding New Deal Senator
To Address 1936 Graduates.

Senator James F. Byrnes, leading Democratic congressman and one of the strongest supporters of the present administration, will be speaker at Presbyterian college's fifty-sixth commencement exercises June 2nd, President Jacobs announces.

The exercises will be held in Bailey Memorial stadium and will have the added importance of the inauguration of Mr. Jacobs as president of P. C. The message of the day will be brought to the huge crowd expected to attend by means of the new amplifying system just installed.

Senator Byrnes, one of the outstanding South Carolinians in congress, has for the past three years been closely associated with President Roosevelt and has sometimes been termed the president's "right-hand man."

Several weeks previous to Senator Byrnes' acceptance of the invitation, the 62 members of the senior class voted unanimously to seek his services, not only as one of the outstanding leaders of the nation, but also as a native South Carolinian who has climbed the rungs to success.

P. C. Senior Sixth In Texas Forensic Finals

H. M. Wilson, Jr., Presbyterian college senior, was the only man representing a college east of the Mississippi river to reach the finals in the nation-wide extempore speaking contest held in conjunction with the Pi Kappa Delta National Forensic convention which was held in Houston, Texas, March 30 through April 4.

Wilson survived six rounds of speaking which eliminated all other Eastern representatives, and in the final round, speaking on the topic, "More Ships, Less Ships, No Ships," he received a national ranking of sixth.

One hundred and fifty colleges and universities from all over the United States were represented in this, the largest extempore contest ever held in America.

According to the rules of the contest, a topic was drawn and then a speech of six minutes was given. Following the speech other contestants could question the speaker for two minutes.

SENATOR JAMES F. BYRNES

Senator Byrnes will make the commencement address, speaking in Bailey Memorial stadium on June 2.

From Our President

I very deeply appreciate the hundreds of expressions of cooperation and interest received from alumni and friends of the college in my acceptance of this responsibility permanently. They hearten me tremendously in this work.

I am pleased with the splendid response to our financial appeal which the college has received, and I am confident that the solution of our problem involves merely a persistent attention and time.

Undoubtedly Presbyterian College is facing a broader and brighter future than ever. Undoubtedly our scope and influence will broaden rather than diminish. Undoubtedly our entire group — friends, alumni, students, faculty and trustees — are closer together, with a singleness of purpose. We will move forward as a unit, with every component part carrying its share of the responsibility.

The recent action of the present senior class in voting a scholarship is an excellent indication of the spirit which is prevalent.

I am delighted to report excellent progress in negotiations with the creditors of the college, and contemplate that such negotiations will in time result in the elimination of this serious bone of contention of the past.

MAJOR WYSOR TO REMAIN AT P.C. ANOTHER YEAR

Major Floyd C. Harding To Replace Captain Beatty.

The administration of the college has received official notice from the United States war department that Major R. E. Wysor, Jr., has been appointed to serve another year as professor of military science and tactics, and that Major Floyd C. Harding has been detailed to relieve Captain George S. Beatty, who will go to the general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Major Wysor has rendered excellent service to the school and the faculty and student body greet the news of his re-appointment with pleasure and enthusiasm.

The R.O.T.C. unit at Presbyterian college has had an excellent rating during Major Wysor's stay here. Each year at general inspection it has received the highest rating given.

The junior officers attending camp at Fort McClellan, Ala., have been awarded the general proficiency cup for the past two years in competition with the schools of the fourth corps area. In the 13 years that the cup been awarded, Presbyterian college has received it six times.

Major Harding has been on active duty with the 3rd infantry, Fort Snelling, Minn., and will arrive here on August 31 to take up his new duties. Major Harding entered the army from the Iowa National Guard in 1917 and is a graduate of the infantry school and the tank school. He is married and has two children.

Co-Eds Admitted To Sigma Kappa Alpha

For the first time since the new ruling permitting girls to share honors at P. C., four girls' names appear on the list of faculty nominations to Sigma Kappa Alpha, local scholarship fraternity.

Seniors nominated were: Elizabeth Blakely, Sara Cannon, Catherine Blakely, and Hugh Holman.

Juniors nominated were Sophia Sullivan, Stuart Campbell and Joe Patrick.

The fraternity will hold its annual banquet on Thursday, April 16, at which time they will hear an address by Dr. Henry N. Snyder, president of Wofford college.

Guests at the banquet will be the twenty students who made the dean's scholarship roll of honor and are not members of the fraternity.

CLASS OF '36 VOTES PURCHASE OF MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Progressive Class Plans Permanent Organization.

The present senior class of Presbyterian College, "desiring to maintain the integrity of the group, to cement college friendships, to aid in the development of (the college), to perpetuate the class name," on March 31 ratified a class constitution to organize the group on a permanent basis.

This is a distinctly progressive step, and adds a new feature to the present group of alumni, for as an organized class as well as a portion of the more heterogeneous association of alumni in general, greater possibilities for unified action are made available.

To Purchase Scholarship

Adapting President Jacobs' unique plan of fragmentary sale of scholarships (as outlined in "My Foundation," booklet available to anyone upon request), the class plans to maintain as a memorial a $100 scholarship, to be financed by class dues. The raising of the first installment will easily be accomplished by several ingenious arrangements.

The scholarship is to be awarded annually by the college authorities. Three requisites are set down for its recipient: "He must maintain a ratio-average of 2.00 or better," of quality-points to the number of hours being carried; "he must be morally straight, regarded with highest esteem by his fellows, and not become involved in fraud or cheating"; "he must take part in at least one college extra-curricular activity."

The recipient of the scholarship will be requested to meet with the class at its annual meeting, which is to be held at Clinton during the week-end of the state track meet.

Annual Class Publication

An annual publication is to be sponsored by the class, dealing with the current activities of the members. Hugh Holman, former editor of The Blue Stocking, and at present publicity director of the college, having finished his course at the end of the first semester of this year, has volunteered to undertake the editing of the paper. The class funds will bear the expense of publication.

The administration of the class organization is to consist of three officers, not yet definitely selected: president, vice-president and editor. R. R. Potter, president of the senior class, is at present acting in the capacity of permanent head; Holman is automatically editor.

McLeod Frampton, Jr., '34, a member of this year's graduating class of Columbia Theological seminary, has been called to the pastorate of the Batesburg - Leesville Presbyterian church, at Batesburg, S. C., to succeed Rev. Bob Hodges, Jr., '26, who has been called to Union, S. C.

JACOBS' CONTEST COMES TO CLOSE

Letters From Students Offer Varied Suggestions.

Prizes totaling $112 dollars were awarded by President William P. Jacobs March 20, to 37 students who won places in his contest of suggestions on how P. C. can be made a better college. R. R. Potter, of Atlanta, Ga., taking the first award of $25; Robert C. McLees, of Clinton, the second of $15, and Edwin Andrews, of Milledgeville, Ga., the third of $10.

Seven prizes of $5 each were awarded to the following: W. D. Power, Jr., H. C. Garrett, H. M. Wilson, J. H. Smith, Sophia Sullivan, A. B. Dles and Hugh Holman. Twenty-seven one-dollar prizes were given.

In announcing the winners, Mr. Jacobs stated that the information he had received was worth far more to him than the amount of the prizes. He further stated that, although some of the suggestions would be impossible to put into effect immediately, he definitely expects to carry out as soon as possible all that are within his reach.

Open forum discussions of some suggestions about which the administration is doubtful will be held at an early date. All students will be invited to take part and campus questions will be discussed from all angles.

Mr. Jacobs, in speaking of some of his more definite plans, stated that, as announced several weeks ago, the college will provide an infirmary, an extensive commercial course, and lounging rooms under the direction and supervision of the Y.M.C.A.

The house occupied by Dr. Spencer, immediately in front of Spencer dormitory has been vacated and will be used as an infirmary and offices. Dr. and Mrs. Spencer are occupying the president's home at the end of the plaza.

P. C. Alumnus On Staff Of "Time"

J. P. Young, '26, has been connected with the staff of "Time," the weekly news magazine, since May, 1935, prior to which he served with "Liberty" and "The Literary Digest."

In a recent letter he obliged the editor of The Alumlite with the information that Jimmy Reid, '27, is now manager of the New York office of a window shade corporation, and that Henry M. Brimm, '17, on leave of absence from Union Theological seminary, where he is librarian, is at Columbia university working on his master's degree in library science.

Possibly even more valuable is the testimonial (unsolicited) which he gives Presbyterian College:

"The ten years that have passed since graduation have only served to convince me that a man who gets everything possible out of his work at P. C. is as well equipped for the battle with life as the man who spends his under-graduate existence at Yale, Harvard or Princeton. This in turn has increased the feeling of gratitude that I have for what was given me by the college and those who serve it."

McClary Offered Excellent Position

James McClary, P. C. senior from Georgetown, S. C., and past president of the student body, has just received the promise of an excellent position in the claims department of the Liberty Mutual Insurance company.

Each year the company sends a representative to the various colleges to interview likely seniors, working on the principle that men with a sound college basis in liberal arts make the best personnel for their claims department. The examination of prospects is very discriminating, by a capable interviewer.

McClary's training is to commence in June; it is an attractive feature of the training of the Liberty Mutual that the student's salary commences at the same time.

Preston Drake, '29, is now resident claims manager of the Los Angeles, California, district of the company, and "second in command" in the state.

Osman Trains For Olympic Try-Outs

Turk Osman, P. C. field representative, graduate of the class of '33, who in his college days was one of the greatest of P. C.'s great track men, is diligently training for the Olympic 300-metre try-outs. Four years ago Turk reached the semi-final Olympic try-outs in the 800-metre, but was forced to scratch because of the death of his mother. The 300-metre event is approximately three and a quarter miles.

BAKER TO HEAD COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Outstanding Instructor To Inaugurate New Courses.

Professor Kenneth N. Baker, Jr., of Newberry college, has been appointed associate professor of economics at Presbyterian college in which capacity he will head the newly-created commercial department.

This new department, which will begin next year, will offer a B. S. degree in commerce. Arrangements are now being made for a new, unusual and complete type of equipment.

The courses offered in this department will include accounting, money and banking, mathematics of finance, business statistics, economic history, insurance, public finance, business organization and administration, commercial law, advanced accounting, marketing, business psychology, labor problems, economic geography, business English, typing, shorthand, and public speaking.

Mr. Baker also will serve as director of the appointment bureau which will aid students in securing employment upon graduation. He will keep close contact with a number of large corporations to aid in this placement.

Mr. Baker is well qualified for such a position. He is an A. B. graduate of the University of South Carolina, and a graduate of the Midwestern School of Commerce in Chicago. He has taken advanced work at the Waldo School of Commerce in Chicago and the University of South Carolina.

His business experience has been wide and practical. He has served as an assistant bank receiver, a cost accountant for a large corporation, and has been himself in the investment business. For the past five years he has been director of the department of business administration at Newberry college. It is from that position that he comes to Presbyterian college.

The selection of such an outstanding instructor in the commercial field, and the installation of such thorough and practical commercial courses is a part of the new program instituted by the new administration of the college looking toward a more practical type of liberal arts education.

Dean Marshall Brown in announcing the program, sought to determine student interest in the new courses by a show of hands. He found that between 40 and 50 per cent of the present student body desired one or more of the new courses.

Mr. Baker's wife, Mrs. Katie Townsend Baker, is an accomplished musician and will possibly conduct private classes in piano. She attended Belhaven college, Jackson, Mississippi, Baylor college, Bolton, Texas, and spent two years at Chicago Musical college, of which institution she is a graduate. In addition, she was a pupil

KENNETH N. BAKER

Debaters Make Fine Record For Year

With but three debates remaining on its schedule, the Presbyterian college debating team has had the most successful season in its history.

The affirmative team, debating the question, "Resolved: That Congress shall have the right by a two-thirds majority to override any decision of the Supreme Court declaring an act of Congress to be unconstitutional," has won seven, lost two and debated one non-decision out of ten arguments.

The negative, debating the same question, has won six and lost three out of nine debates.

The affirmative, made up of Hugh Holman and Richard Potter, defeated Textile Industrial institute, Erskine, and then went to the South Atlantic Forensic tournament at Rock Hill where they debated six times, defeating Guilford college of North Carolina, Atlantic Christian of North Carolina, Wake Forest of North Carolina, and Shepherd of Virginia, and losing to Waynesburg of Pennsylvania, and Morehead of Kentucky. The defeat that they administered Wake Forest was the only one that a Wake Forest team received out of twelve debates at the tournament, winning the cup by eleven out of twelve debates. Since the tournament they have debated Converse in a non-decision clash, and defeated the team from Cumberland university of Tennessee.

The negative, made up of H. M. Wilson and Edgar Stanton, won from Winthrop, Textile Industrial institute, and Erskine, and then went to the South Atlantic tournament where of the famous Moissaye and Boguslawski, and has had wide teaching experience.

Bolick Makes Record At High Point School

Harry Bolick, class of '35, all-state fullback, winner of the Jacobs blocking trophy, and four-letter man, is making a big success of his coaching assignment at High Point (N.C.) high school.

The school has an enrollment of 1,352 students and is located in a town of 44,400 population. The school takes part in every form of inter-school athletics, and Harry coaches football, wrestling, and baseball.

His football season got off to a rather slow start, but once it whipped into shape it couldn't be stopped. It lost four, tied one and won five, beating all the larger and most powerful teams in the state, since they were on the end of the schedule. A loss to Winston-Salem really started them going. Then they "licked" Salisbury, Charlotte, Gastonia and Greensboro. Charlotte high was defeated for the first time in history, and by a score of 20-6. Gastonia went down to the tune of 55-0. In the last four games the Bolick-coached boys made 128 points to their opponents' 18. The only man in the state to receive a unanimous vote for all-state was on this team, Sprye.

The wrestling team did not suffer a defeat during the entire season and took third place in the state wrestling tournament at Chapel Hill.

At last report the baseball team had not swung into action, but Harry said that he had a bright outlook on that field as well.

Congratulations, Harry, on your splendid record—and on your four-months-old son!

Rain Calls Philadelphia Game With P. C. April 7

A soggy field and intermittent showers cancelled the practice game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Blue Hose. Interest, keyed to a high pitch, suffered a severe disappointment as nature blue-pencilled the event at which Young field, equipped with new bleachers, amplifying system and other improvements, was to be "broken in."

A later game was made impossible because of the barnstorming nature of the Philadelphia team's visit.

they won from King college, Stetson college, and Tennessee State Teachers' college, and lost to North Carolina State, Maryville college, and Appalachian State Teachers' college. They have not debated since the tournament.

At present the P. C. team has the enviable record of having debated nineteen times, won thirteen, lost five, and had one non-decision.

Debates remaining on the schedule are: for the affirmative, Winthrop and Wofford; for the negative, Converse and Wofford.

EDITORIALS

P. C.'S PURPOSE

The function of Presbyterian College has been in recent months frequently presented in a very concrete way to various groups throughout this section. It is the development of Christian personalities, the encouragement of a conservative type of education, the building of Christian citizenship, and the development of straight, solid thinking. This theme seems to meet with general popularity wherever it is presented.

It seems to enable the laymen to better appreciate the direct, specific advantages of a Christian education. It is based upon the theory that education without the tempering influences of Christ often becomes a positive menace instead of a help. Radicalism has entered into the greater universities of America to such a wide extent that it very clearly falls the lot of the smaller, liberal arts, Christian institutions to carry the burden of conservative thinking.

The church expects Presbyterian College to encourage orthodox conservative thinking. Industry and business at large expect the college to build citizens of the future, who can keep their feet on the ground and think straight. The public at large looks to Presbyterian College as a source of outstanding, solid leaders of the future.

The college meets the challenge by teaching science with reverence, and teaching the students to contemplate the various theories of man in the light of God's Will interpreted. In this function Presbyterian College has a very definite position to fill in our present order. The day is coming when Presbyterian College trained men and women will be looked upon as greatly to be desired in the professional and business fields, as well as in the ministry.

A SPECIAL SERVICE

When you were in college did you have a particular crony? And have you lost track of him in the self-absorbed years since graduation? And would you like to re-locate him, mend the broken link of friendship? The Alumlite will do its best to help you; it plans to offer a special service; its purpose is mending and strengthening the bonds that bind the individuals in the Presbyterian College alumni group together. Write to the editor, name the lost friend; we will do our best to find for you his address. If the current catalog of alumni kept so adequately by Secretary Willard L. Jones of the Alumni Association does not furnish the information, we will publish the name in a special column of The Alumlite. All we ask is that if in perusing this column, you should be in a position to furnish some of the information desired, you drop us a card. The Alumlite has no subscription price. Although part of the publicity of the college, it is first and foremost a whole-hearted effort to unify the group whose spirit it typifies. Its editorial staff works unsalaried, in the simple hope that their work be appreciated. If you, or you, or you should fail to cooperate, it will be your failure—not ours.

Overcome that inertia—send in that bit of news—drop us a card.

DO YOUR PART

Presbyterian College Alumni,
 Everywhere.

Dear Fellow-Alumni:

As a man ages his mind wanders in thoughts back to scenes of his boyhood. That is natural, as most of us are prone to live in the past as well as in the present. Memory is a great comfort, and it is only natural in these reveries that we should expel the unpleasantness from our mind and linger over the more pleasant. The essence of this thought is my theme for an appeal to each of you to renew your allegiance and association with our Alma Mater. Presbyterian College has meant much to each of us, and will have an even greater significance and as we grow older and think over the days spent in Clinton, we will value the associations and friendships of college days. These play second part only to class work, which was the prime purpose of a college education.

All of this rambling brings me around to my point. It is an appeal to you to renew your pledge of allegiance to Presbyterian College. Drop the editor of The Alumlite a card or letter and tell him what you are doing, what has happened to you since you left college, and any other information about yourself. These little bits of minor information are a source of pleasure to all of us. Let's keep up with each other in this manner, through our publication. Come back into the fold and let's all help Presbyterian College grow, as she is even now on the threshold of her greatest years.

Our newly-elected president has laid plans for the expansion and development of the scope of P. C., and with the dynamic personality and business ability which he possesses, even though all imaginable should bar the way, William Jacobs is certainly going to succeed in spite of all the apparently insurmountable odds that face him. This statement is true, however, on one condition: he will succeed only if and when you and you (and me, too) rally to the support of Presbyterian College. Let him know that you are with him. Your messages will give him added spirit to attack the job before him.

I paused here to read this over. It

New Sound System Installed At P. C.

While this issue of The Alumlite is going to press, we take pleasure in announcing that the new loud speaker or sound amplifying system for P. C.'s athletic field is being installed. The equipment arrived this week, and Mr. Obst, of the Giant Manufacturing company, is on the campus directing installation. The system consists of a large amplifier, four large broadcasting horns, portable and stationary microphones and accessory wiring.

The use of the sound system will make athletic events on P. C.'s field much more interesting to the spectators; and will enable them to follow events and plays more closely. It is hoped that the sound system, plus the recently installed floodlighting system, will redouble the attendance at athletic events.

The alumni and friends of P. C. have made this, the first light and sound equipped field in the state, possible by their contributions of money, equipment and time. Eighty individuals, organizations and business firms donated $950 for this equipment, which will cost $2,000 completed. Thus approximately $1,150 remains to be raised. Through The Alumlite, the Alumni Association will be glad to receive the contribution of any alumnus who has not had the opportunity to give to the light and sound fund. Likewise, we urge those who have pledged to this fund to send in their checks as soon as possible.

P. C. is proud of her alumni, and wishes to extend thanks to those who have worked and contributed to this cause. All alumni and friends are invited to be here for the initiation of the new system. Watch for announcements!

McMillian Arranging 'Tour To Olympics

Coach Lonnie S. McMillian announces that he will be glad to hear from anyone interested in what he considers the most reasonable trip to the Olympics at Berlin, Germany, on the market. His own attendance will depend largely on whether or not the college has need of him during the month from July 23rd to August 13, which the tour covers.

Witherspoon Dunlap, class of '29, a graduate of Union Theological seminary is preaching in the Presbyterian church of Knoxville, Tenn.

Joe Bowen, '31, is leaving a position as principal of Tate high school, Tate, Ga., to become head of high school at Villa Rica, Ga.

seems to me to lack "unity, emphasis and coherence"; but it is the best I can do. Let this, then, be a lesson to all of us, DO THE BEST THAT WE CAN. That is all that is asked of anyone. DO YOUR PART.

Cordially Yours,
 L. W. JACKSON, Vice-President,

1936 Valedictorian Gets Fellowship At U. of Wisconsin

Hudson Goes To Mid-West, and Martin To U. of Virginia.

Colin Hudson, of Greenville, and Venable Martin, of Clinton, have received notification of scholarship appointments for graduate work, the former at the University of Wisconsin, the latter at the University of Virginia.

Hudson is valedictorian of the class of 1936 and has been outstanding scholastically since entering school. He will take up his duties as an assistant in the department of physics at Wisconsin for the 1936-37 session in September.

Martin, the son of the late Prof. A. V. Martin of the college faculty, also has been an outstanding student while at P. C. His fellowship award is in the department of mathematics at the University of Virginia. Like Hudson, his duties will begin in September.

Both men are members of the senior class and each has done excellent work in his field of endeavor.

Alumlite On Alumni

Dr. R. L. Coe, '17, state director of the National Youth Administration, took time off from his multitudinous duties to send the following alumni information:

"In my rambles around Columbia I have run into two or three of our alumni who are stationed here: M. M. Pennell, '21, who travels out of Columbia for a business house; Lawrence Owens, '27, who is in the insurance business; Charles Rigby, '30, who is with the Federal Land Bank; Louis Wallace, '29, who is with the Intermediate Credit Bank; Gary Stukes, '30, who is head of the Glythwood school system; C. E. Godbold, '28, who resides in New Brookland, a suburb of Columbia, and a number of others."

John Ammen Blake, graduate of the class of '26, is connected with the psychiatry department of Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore.

A recent report from Union Theological seminary shows several Presbyterian College alumni among its students. John Bright, Jr., class of '27, a graduate student of the seminary, is pursuing his studies at Johns Hopkins university. Among other graduate students are Rev. Parks Wilson, '20, of Harrisonburg, Va.; Rev. Robert Woodson, '16, Starksville, Miss.; Rev. Edward Beall, '30, Sykesville, Md., and Rev. Howard Wilson, '17, Farmville, Va. The latter two are non-resident students. Undergraduate students include Norton Dendy, '33, Walhalla, S. C., of the senior class; Twyman Fowler, '36, Fountain Inn, S. C., and Chalmers McCutchen, '35, Bishopville, S. C., both of the junior class.

Illustrated Booklet Is Now Available

A new type of quarterly booklet has just come from the press.

Designed personally by President Jacobs and made up of excellent photographs of campus views and student groups, it is something new in the field of college advertising.

Any alumnus or friend of the college desirous of having a copy of this unusual booklet need only notify The Alumlite or the college administration. Those in contact with prospective students are urged to put into their hands the new bulletin.

This Month At P. C.

On March 13, President Jacobs announced that Senator James F. Byrnes would be the speaker at the fifty-sixth commencement exercises on June 2. Mr. Jacobs' inauguration as president will take place at that time as well.

On March 16 Coach Johnson announced one of the stiffest football schedules in the history of P. C. athletics, one in which five of the nine games will be with Southern conference teams.

On March 16, Dr. Charles E. Little of George Peabody college, addressed the students on the annual founders' day.

On March 17, the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity captured the campus basketball title when they defeated the Kappa Alpha's by a score of 20-5. The tournament had been going on for a week and a half with eight teams competing.

On March 19, President Jacobs received official notification that Major R. E. Wysor had been detailed to P. C. for another year, and that Captain Beatty would be relieved by Major Harding.

On March 23, $112 was awarded 37 winners in the "Essay on Constructive Criticism" contest that President Jacobs conducted. Richard Potter won first prize of $25, R. C. McLees won second and received $15, and E. R. Andrews won third and received $10.

On March 25, Co-captain of the debate team, H. M. Wilson, left for Houston, Texas, where he attended the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta and entered the extempore speaking contest.

March 27, the Blue Hose track team defeated the Gamecocks from the University of South Carolina in a meet at Clinton.

April 2, Dean Brown announced the selection of Professor Kenneth N. Baker of Newberry college as associate professor of economics and director of the newly-created department of commerce at Presbyterian College.

On April 3, President Jacobs announced that Governor Olin D. Johnston had accepted an invitation to make an address at the annual South Carolina Intercollegiate Track and Field meet to be held here on May 2.

April 4, the Georgia Bulldogs defeated the Blue Hose track team on a wet, slow track.

April 6, H. M. Wilson returned from Houston, Texas, bringing the news that he was the only man representing a college east of the Mississippi to reach the finals in the nation-wide extempore speaking contest that he entered there. He received a national ranking of sixth.

April 7, Colin Hudson and A. V. Martin received notification that they had received fellowships at two large universities for the coming school year. Colin goes to the University of Wisconsin on an $850 fellowship, and Martin goes to the University of Virginia on a $400 fellowship.

April 8, the Blue Hose baseball

Jacobs Is Busy Man

President Jacobs has been jumping around from North to South, from East to West, in the interest of the college and his many other activities, on what is probably one of the busiest schedules undertaken by an individual in this section. In March he made over fifteen speeches, attended a number of meetings, carried the story of the college to many important points, including Columbia and Charleston, a talk over radio station WBT, Charlotte, N. C., New York, Atlanta, and other points.

On April 2nd he spoke to the men of the Aveleith Presbyterian church in Newberry. On April 8th he made a talk on the college over radio station WAIM, Anderson, S. C., and the orchestra of Presbyterian College also played on the same program. At Newberry the Presbyterian College quartet furnished the music. On April 9th he addressed the annual ladies' night event of the Iva Lions club, on April 11th the Spartanburg County Teachers' association. On April 17th he will address the men of the church at Purity Presbyterian church at Chester. Former President John McSweeney is pastor of this church. On April 21, in the evening, he receives the presentation of the battalion of the R.O.T.C. unit of Presbyterian College.

He is planning to attend several of the Presbytery meetings in this state and Georgia during April, and he winds up the month by attending the American Cotton Manufacturers' association meeting at Pinehurst, N. C.

In between he has been serving as coach of the tennis team, and accompanied them to Due West, where they defeated Erskine in six matches out of seven, and he expects to accompany them on a number of their matches during April and May, including Wofford College, University of South Carolina, Charleston College, The Citadel, Furman University, and Erskine again.

Conflicts in dates have forced him to decline a number of speaking engagements. He has committed himself to make a number of commencement addresses in May and June.

Dr. Hays On Ocean Voyage For Health

Dr. S. C. Hays, '06, college physician, past president of the Alumni Association and member of the board of trustees, embarked from New York in the early part of March on the Dollar liner "President Wilson," bound for Los Angeles by sea by (another) doctors' orders. With him are his wife, Mrs. Helen Hays, and Mrs. E. J. Adair of Clinton.

Touching at Havana and other West Indian ports, the party will proceed via the Panama canal to Los Angeles, taking the same route on the team opened their college season by defeating the Newberry Indians by a score of 9 to 1.

Dr. Milling Conducts Clinic For P. C. Class

Conducted by Dr. Chapman J. Milling, graduate of the class of '23, the class in abnormal psychology paid its annual visit to the State hospital for the mentally deranged on March 19.

Taught by Miss Norma Hallett, psychiatrist at the State Training school, in the absence of Dr. F. D. Jones, the class was prepared to absorb and understand the demonstration of all types of dementia which were explained by Dr. Milling.

Five members of the staff of the hospital are graduates of Presbyterian college. Dr. W. P. Beckman, '20, is director of mental hygiene at the institution and also conducts mental hygiene clinics at various places throughout the state. Other P. C. graduates on the staff are Dr. G. B. Carrigan, '17; Dr. S. B. McLendon, '25; and Dr. James M. Austin, '19.

It is an interesting sidelight that W. Frank Guess, '35, while editor of The Blue Stocking, won first place in the South Carolina Intercollegiate Press contest for newspaper feature stories with an article on the poetry of Dr. Milling. Quite versatile, Dr. Milling is a prominent naturalist as well as the author of several books of verse.

Alumni Wedding Announcements

Castaneda-Grafton

Arthur Wallace Grafton, '28, was married on March 24, to Miss Paola Castaneda, daughter of Commander and Mrs. David Graham Copeland. The wedding took place at 4:30 in the afternoon, 120 S. Riverside Drive, Everglades, Fla. Grafton is now practicing law in Louisville, Ky. The couple are to live at "The Puritan," in Louisville.

Clark-McElrath

John Adam McElrath, '35, was married on Sunday, March 22, to Miss Imogene Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Clark of Anderson. The wedding took place at the home of Dr. Warren M. Seay, officiating minister, at 9 a. m. McElrath is the son of W. O. McElrath, and is now employed in the postoffice in Anderson.

Jones-Brigman

Frank Leon Brigman, Jr., '30, is to marry Miss Laurabell Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Jones of Oviedo, Fla. The couple plan to reside in Charleston, S. C.

Van Arnold, '35, past president of the Presbyterian college Y.M.C.A., and brother of E. J. Arnold, senior, and retiring president of the "Y," is a student at Columbia Theological seminary, Decatur, Ga.

return voyage. They are due back April 20th.

Dr. Delmar Rhame, '26, president of the Alumni organization and associated with Dr. Hays, in the meanwhile is attending to the ailing, lame and halt of the student body.

GOVERNOR JOHNSTON TO SPEAK AT STATE MEET

Olin D. Johnston, governor of South Carolina, will speak at the annual state track and field meet to be held here May 3 and 4, it was announced by President William P. Jacobs.

Governor Johnston is a graduate of Wofford college and has long shown great interest in athletics throughout the state. His address will follow presentation of the trophy to the winning team on Saturday, May 4, Friday being given over to the state freshman meet and varsity trials. The subject of the governor's talk, which will be made clearly audible by the amplifying system, will be "Clean Sportsmanship."

The 1936 state meet will be staged along Olympic lines, and with the effectiveness characteristic of all of Walter Johnson's activities. Winners of each event will be presented their awards while the band plays the alma mater of the school taking first place.

Although the dual meet season is just beginning to get under way, present prospects point to one of the most successful state meets held in the history of the cinder sport in South Carolina. Preparations already are being made to handle the large crowd expected.

Athletics At P. C. Take On Rosy Hue

Athletics at P. C. are picking up their respective heads and preparing what will probably be the grandest spring finish that the Blue Hose school has had in many a year.

Baseball is holding the limelight for the first time in years. Coach "Chick" Galloway has a team that is almost perfectly balanced. Four capable pitchers, Suggs, Commander, Anderson, and Holliday, have relieved one of the Calvinists' greatest worries, that of being unable to play as well the second or third day as they did the first. An infield made up of Blackwell, at first, Horne at second, Higbe at short, and Harvin at third has all the pep, vim, and vigor that a snappy nine could call for. Millsap, Weldon, Evans, Coe and others are veritable running tar buckets in the field. And the boys are no mean swingers at the plate.

They've only played one Palmetto league game at this writing, but in that one they quietly and effectively tucked Newberry in the cotton while Suggs pitched a two-hit game and his team-mates pounded in nine runs to the Indians' single trip across the plate.

With last year's champions, the Clemson Tigers, showing surprising weakness, while Newberry quietly removed Citadel from the running and Erskine showed its heels to the Gamecocks, it begins to look like the boys with the Blue Sox are headed for the first baseball championship in a decade or so.

Track isn't quite so optimistic a picture. The Blue Hose have their strongest man in Captain Joe Bradley who has galloped the century in 9.7 on two occasions, and can dash off the 220-yards in 22 seconds, with apparently the greatest of ease. Contrary to advance notices the Hose are stronger in the field that they have been in years. Hollis, Guerard, and Thompson can ably care for the broad jump, Jacobs is no mean high jumper, William and Jacobs toss a wicked shot, while Hipu and Wilbanks sling the discus and javelin with wild abandon. Not that the Calvinists are going to win a first in all these—but they'll place, my friends, they'll place. But it's in the pole vault that they really shine. Hemphill, Beeman, and Wilbanks have established a custom of tying for first place in this event.

The cinder artists have beaten Carolina, and taken it on the chin from Georgia and Clemson. Georgia doesn't count, and the Tigers are going to lose many of those points to Newberry, Citadel, Furman, and Wofford in the state meet without any injury to the Sox, so don't worry too much. We'll probably get a fairly close second.

Tennis started off very slowly. The racquet boys lost to Carolina, Wofford, and Furman by rather large scores, but just when the groans had begun to sound, they seemed to catch their stride and took Erskine by a score of 6 to 1. They aren't going to win any championships but nevertheless no one at the Clinton institution of higher learning is going to be ashamed of them.

All in all, 'tis a rather bright outlook. Much the brightest that we've seen in four years of sports reporting here.

Alumni Prominent In Many Fields

Rev. C. Darby Fulton, D.D., executive secretary of foreign missions of the Southern Presbyterian church, class of '11, has just returned from an extensive trip through South America, inspecting foreign mission posts of the church there. Dr. Fulton is a very busy man and an extensive traveler, and immediately on return to this country is jumping about from Texas to the Atlantic coast stimulating an interest in the cause which he ably represents. He is one of the most prominent graduates of Presbyterian College.

Rev. Ellis A. Fuller, D.D., class of '12, pastor of the First Baptist church of Atlanta, Ga., came to Presbyterian College as a Baptist. He received a Presbyterian College education and went into active ministry in the Baptist church. After a number of minor charges he was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Atlanta, one of the outstanding, and one of the strongest Baptist churches in the South. That he is doing a tremendous work there is represented by the fact that his congregation is growing rapidly, and it now boasts of over 2600 members. His church and Sunday school building is one of the outstanding architectural achievements in the ecclesiastical field in America. Dr. Fuller, while serving a different denomination, is a very distinct asset as an alumnus of Presbyterian college, and a splendid example of the type of graduate that can be turned out at this institution.

N. E. Truesdale, class of '31, Bethune, S. C., is serving in the same legislature with Norton, and is a very capable representative from Kershaw county. He occupies a prominent seat in the house, and his voting on matters of importance has always been most constructive. Truesdale, while at P. C., was one of our greatest boxers.

Another graduate of Presbyterian college is Bernie Dunlap, class of '32, of Rock Hill, S. C., serving as general committee clerk in the South Carolina senate. Bernie was a football and track star at P. C.

L. C. Norton, class of '16, is one of the outstanding political leaders in the eastern section of South Carolina, representing Marlboro county in the state legislature for the past several years. He is prominent in the discussions of affairs in the state law-making body, and is looked upon as one of the outstanding citizens in the Pee Dee section. Legislator Norton has, since leaving Presbyterian college, grown greatly in stature and dignity and is building a great name for himself, and is a distinct credit to his alma mater. He is prematurely gray, and his gray hairs lend an atmosphere of dignity.

Underwriting Fund Continues; Plan For Scholarships Popular

The subscriptions continue to come in on the underwriting fund. Appeals have been made pretty generally throughout the eastern section of South Carolina. Our field force are now concentrating on the western section of the state. Mr. O'Daniel for the next several weeks will be in the Spartanburg and Greenville areas. As soon as he is finished with South Carolina, Georgia will be the next stop.

The effort is being conducted slowly, but in a very concentrated manner, and is paying handsome dividends for the college.

The president continues to solicit scholarships, and each week finds several additional ones added to the list. Our goal is a hundred scholarships of $200.00 each by the end of the year. Some of the foremost citizens in the South have subscribed to scholarships since the campaign began. A number of church organizations throughout the territory have subscribed to scholarships, and the present senior class of the college led the way among the classes with a subscription to a scholarship. The classes of the past are urged to consider the same step. It is a most worthy one, and an opportunity for the individual members of the classes to establish a combined memorial that will pay handsome dividends in the lives of future citizens.

A bronze tablet will be placed in the rotunda of the Administration Building bearing the names of each each scholarship is represented by a of the scholarships contributed, and steel-engraved certificate, setting forth the conditions under which the college will administer the scholarships. The ideal is to offset every scholarship given on the campus with a definite sum in the way of income for the college. All of the scholarships contributed are work scholarships, based upon actual work to be done by the students. Each recipient will be assigned a responsibility, either work on the campus or in the infirmary, in the library, or in the dining hall, in the executive offices, in Y.M.C.A. work, in publication work, or some other important activity of the campus.

In every instance, whether the recipient be an athlete or not, the scholarship must be paid for by the requisite number of hours of actual work done. The record of these work scholarships will be kept by Athletic Director Walter A. Johnson, who has general charge of the campus and grounds and improvement.

The underwriting fund carries on. The alumni are urged to spread the good news, and lend their support and assistance in the effort in every way possible.

FROM OUR PRESIDENT

I now urge you to forget that we have had these problems of the past, and look only toward the future.

We have two immediate serious concerns—the first is the securing of a record of enrollment for next fall. The alumni can help us tremendously by recommending worthy prospective young students. Second, in the securing of a hundred scholarships at $200 each before the end of the year. In this effort the alumni also can be of tremendous service. Why can't each of the classes back for twenty-five or thirty years meet together by mail and arrange a combined scholarship in the name of the class? Let us together touch every resource available, and build at Presbyterian College the type of institution that is fully justified by its ideals.

Respectfully,
WM. P. JACOBS, President.
